

Pratice project:

In this project we retrieving the product using the product id. In this project we have created html and servlet page and developed a server to connection to develop the project. Mysql is used to create and inserted the values in the table.